Rome, 6 May 2021 – CDP Venture Capital SGR continues its programme of supporting the development of the innovation ecosystem in Italy offering, alongside financial support tools, a series of platforms geared to serving the startup community. XJobs, the new tool that creates contacts between professional talents and job opportunities in innovative companies within the portfolio of CDP Venture Capital SGR and the CDP Group, will be online from May 13th on the website www.cdpventurecapital.it.

XJobs is the second tool aimed at high-potential companies, after the launch of Digital Xcelerator, the first free e-learning platform for anyone who has started up a business or intends to take a closer look at the possibility, which offers 120 training modules focusing on the entire life cycle of startups.

Just like Digital Xcelerator, XJobs is also a dynamic and absolutely free online space. Designed to be an open job board, it allows users to view all the available positions, including highly specialised roles in IT, such as Frontend Developers and Electronic Engineers, in business and systems relations, such as Sales staff, Controllers, Product Managers and Community Managers, but also in the Marketing and Legal fields, in logistics and more besides.

At the launch XJobs will have over 200 available positions published by 40 startups and SMEs that are part of the portfolio of CDP Venture Capital SGR and the CDP Group.

This new tool that extends the services offered by CDP Venture Capital SGR in support of the Italian landscape of innovation, enriches the series of new advisory services aimed at its community and the entire CDP Group, focusing on enhancing the human capital in companies, in addition to the traditional tools of loans and venture capital.

Digital Xcelerator and XJobs are just the first channels to be launched dedicated to the community, as part of the overall well-structured offering that CDP Venture Capital SGR is developing within its 2020-2022 Business Plan “Dall’Italia per Innovare l’Italia” (From Italy to innovate Italy). Tools capable of satisfying the all-round development needs of high-potential companies and startups, in order to support their programme of growth and enhance their competitiveness and entry into international markets. The offer will be gradually expanded with the inclusion of additional tools supporting the innovation ecosystem.
